AMPHION ENTERTAINS.

Guests of Musical Organization Given Pleasant Evening of Well Chosen Music.

A spirit of unaffected sociability was the pleasing feature of the open meeting of the Amphion society last Friday night in the Woman's clubhouse, when about two hundred members and guests assembled to hear some good music, and get acquainted all over again. The Amphion society membership embraces the entire upper San Gabriel valley, and not all are in attendance at each meeting. It is only at the larger affairs, such as the meeting of last Friday night, that there is a goodly representation of the membership. The hall looked very pretty with potted plants and flowers, and the members and guests were seated informally and without restraint. The ladies receiving at the door were: Mrs. R. M. Douglass, Mrs. W. M. Griswold, Mrs. William Crook and Mrs. LaFetra.

The program was arranged by G. Haydn Jones, tenor soloist and vocal teacher, who introduced a men's glee club of twelve voices, all local singers. The music was pleasing, and called forth encores on every number. The boys sang "The Sailors' Chorus," by Parry as an opening number, and in the middle of the program, "Sweet And Low," by Barnby. The last number was an arrangement of Sullivan's "The Lost Chord." Mr. Jones has succeeded in making a tenuous chorus of his young men. The men singing were James Wells, S. J. Walton, Richard Draper, Roy Blanchard, Ronald Taylor, Edward Sprout, Robert Brown, W. P. Nye, Ora King, Edward Blanchard and Ernest Black.

The accompanist for the chorus was Alec Anderson at piano. The solos rendered by Mr. Jones were varied in style and selection. He sang the recitative and aria from Handel, "Thanks to My Brethren," and "How Vain Is Man," following with a Welsh number, and a number from Verdi, "La Donna e Mobile." Other numbers that were acceptable were Smith's "Thou'rt Like Unto a Flower," "The Secret," by Scott; "The Proposal," by Brackett; "The Revenge," by Hatton. Mrs. H. Hennion Robinson accompanied Mr. Jones at piano, and played solos. The Rakoczy March by Liszt was probably the best received. Her work was very pleasing throughout. The ladies served fruit punch and wafers during the social hour.

STAR-GAZER BUYS LEMONS.

Eminent Astronomer is Delighted With Irwindale and Will Build Residence There.

Prof. G. W. Ritchey, expert astronomer in charge of the Carnegie Solar Observatory, is to become a resident of the Covina valley as soon as he has opportunity to erect a residence on his new ranch in Irwindale. Prof. Ritchey purchased a ten-acre lemon ranch of E. B. Pierce of Pomona this week, through the agency of Frank Wheeler of Claremont. The ranch is a splendid piece of property, and the new owner says that its location, in the finest portion of the San Gabriel valley, had much to do with its selection.

Prof. Ritchey is at the present time superintending the construction of the massive 100-inch lens for one of the largest telescopes ever put together, and this machine will be mounted at the observatory on Mount Wilson. The professor is delighted with the view of the Sierra Madre from his new ranch, and has stated that he has seen no other country which seemed so desirable as a place of residence.

W. C. T. U. Notes.

Next Sunday evening, May 21, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet with the young people's societies of all the churches in Covina. At this time some of the prize essays that were written in the high and grammar schools will be read and the prizes will be awarded. Everybody is welcome.

The state convention of the W.C.T.U. will convene at Long Beach next week, and on Friday night will occur the grand diamond medal contest. Every member of the local organization who possibly can, should be in attendance on this night. The delegates from the union are Mrs. John Zug, Mrs. Hesselstine, Mrs. Joe Heath, Mrs. J. L. Matthews. The president, Mrs. Elston, will also be present.

A First-Class Tuner.

A practical, accurate tuner of pianos has established residence in Covina, a man of thirty years of experience. He comes recommended by the best pianists in the San Gabriel valley, and can be trusted to do high-class, conscientious work. A fine instrument should be cared for by a person who thoroughly understands. Owners of pianos and organs, please communicate with the Argus office by telephone, or leave orders for tuning at the office, and they will be satisfactorily attended to.

DISHES OF SPAIN.

The Warm Tamale and the Popular Frijole Appeared in Successful Church Dinner.

The second annual Spanish dinner, held under the auspices of the Catholic ladies of Covina at the Hotel Vendome on Wednesday evening, was more of an agreeable surprise than last year, as the affair eclipsed last year's big success in every way. The ladies succeeded in filling the dining room to overflowing from 5:30 o'clock until 9, over two hundred people being fed.

The supper was run for the benefit of the building fund of the Church of the Sacred Heart parish. This society intends to build a building to cost $3500 in the near future on a lot at the corner of Fifth and Center streets, and the ladies are working bravely and successfully to raise their portion of the building fund. The supper on Wednesday night gave a very substantial boost to this fund, for which the ladies are receiving a just amount of praise. It has been through the activity of these ladies that much of the enthusiasm has been aroused for this new parish, and Rev. M. H. Geary, pastor of this parish, is strong in his praise of the efficiency shown by the women of his church.

The dining room was very tastefully decorated in an original display of margarites, which were placed against the walls in a running border and bound to the chandeliers in baskets. The tables were also very prettily decorated, and the spirit of the affair was kept going at full speed by Mrs. J. J. Fitzgerald, the capable manager of the hotel. Mrs. Fitzgerald was here, there and everywhere, making things go, and it is to her that the ladies owe very much because of her ability to superintend an affair of this kind. The Catholic society is also very grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald for the use of the hotel on that evening. The Spanish dinner bids fair to become an annual occasion. Many people were present from Azusa, Glendora and San Dimas, while the local people turned out in heavy patronage. Everybody enjoyed the tamales, frijoles, enchiladas, Spanish preserves and other Spanish dishes which made up the novel bill of fare.

THE RECEDED ARMY.

Memorial Day Services For the Big Battalions Across the River Are Arranged.

Memorial Day approaches again, with all its significance as a day set apart for the remembrance of the fallen comrades of the Great American Conflict. The local organization, which embraces the towns of Covina, Azusa and Glendora, will hold exercises in Oakdale cemetery at 10 a. m. The comrades and ladies of the Grand Army will afterwards serve lunch in the Azusa Woman's clubhouse at noon, and the program, which is a long and varied one, will be held in the Azusa city hall at 2 p. m. The Azusa band will have a prominent part, and the school children will be heard in exercises. Comrade Will A. Knighten of Los Angeles will deliver the address. The Memorial Association will have charge of the program, and much will be said about the raising of funds for the placing of a suitable monument in Oakdale cemetery.

Epworth League Celebrates.

The twenty-second anniversary of the founding of the Epworth League in the United States was celebrated by the local chapter last Sunday evening in the Methodist church. The introductory address was made by Dr. Charles Fingerle. The subject of the Epworth League in Europe was discussed by G. R. Lawrence, and in Spanish America and Africa, by Miss Ruth Leebrecht. The Epworth League in China and India was taken as a subject by Mrs. Charles Gass and Mrs. G. R. Lawrence, and the work in the Philippines and Malaysia by R. T. Chew and Mr. Fingerle. A duet was sung by the Misses Mattie Broakey and Anna Somers. The installation of officers followed. Those holding positions are: President, Dr. Charles Fingerle; first vice-president, R. T. Chew, Jr.; second vice-president, E. C. Siewert; third vice-president, Miss Cora Davis; fourth vice-president, Charles Gass; secretary, Miss Nellie Anderson; treasurer, Eric Anderson; organist, Miss Emma Anderson.

NEW PRACTICAL IDEA.

Glendora Rancher is Mixing Sulphate of Lime With Manure Before It Is Shipped.

An experiment which really has passed all the first stages of doubt, and has become a reasonable fact, is being carried out by a number of citrus ranchers in the Covina valley, relating to the mixing of sulphate of lime with manure, in order to save every nutrient part of the fertilizer for the consumption of the plant. The Argus has been watching several experiments that have been made in the past year, and it seems like a thoroughly feasible and practicable thing to allow the sulphate of lime, or gypsum, to absorb the liquid parts of the manure, thereby saving what is ordinarily entirely wasted.

The introduction of this idea into the Covina valley has been a commercial proposition, for the purpose of increasing the sales of gypsum, but it has progressed further than this, and the promoters of this idea have certainly hit upon something that is of vast interest to the users of barnyard fertilizer. This week a rancher in Glendora, Julian C. Wright, is mixing 400 pounds of gypsum to each ton of barnyard fertilizer before it is shipped to him. The manure is being purchased of a big manure concern in Los Angeles, and this manure is taken off of a cement floor, where all the liquids are caught. In order to get the benefit of the liquids the gypsum is mixed with it, and in this way every ounce of the strength of the manure is saved. This idea is wholly a new one, although gypsum has been for a long time used about corrals and in barnyards for the purpose of keeping down flies and vermin.

By mixing the gypsum on the floor of the company's corral before it is loaded on the cars, the farmer is getting more than twenty-five times the strength of the manure ordinarily obtained through the old method. Dry manure that has burned out more or less, is practically nothing but mulch. The attention of the ranchers is called to this new method. It is pointed out that the gypsum itself is a fine fertilizer, and the two together make a combination hard to beat.

STOP AND "DIG UP."

Constable With Shooting Iron Is Gathering in Dollars and Claremont Is Not Pleased.

A comic opera constable in Claremont is getting on the nerves of the residents, owing to his penchant for holding up automobiles with a gun, solemnly requesting the occupants to "stand and deliver." There is method to be discovered in his horse-play, however, for the story is told that the constable and the local justice have formed what is known as the Claremont Fines and Fast-Driving Trust. The justice is a retired minister, and the unwonted glitter of gold from speeding fines is said to have gone to his head.

W. L. Valentine, millionaire member of the Southern California Auto Club, is said to be one who has looked into the business end of the constable's gun, and the roar he made afterward has set the whole country agog. Attorney Kuster for the auto club is investigating the methods, and the end is not yet. In the meantime, a Claremont man has given information to the Argus to the effect that the holding up of automobilists with a gun is not approved of by the citizens of Claremont, and that the town is not desirous of getting such a bad name. It looks as if Claremont, the beautiful hill town, is about to lose a lot of tourist and automobile business, unless the town votes that the constable-justice trust is in restraint of trade.

WHITTIER IS DISTURBED.

Another Protest Against Baldwin Park Piggery Bobs Up to Harass County Supervisors.

Whittier water users are up in arms over the contamination of the domestic water supply of the city, which they allege is being caused by the piggery at Baldwin Park. A representative of three water companies, the California Domestic, La Habra, and Whittier, appeared before the county supervisors on Monday. He said that a hog ranch of considerable size, situated on land adjacent to the water intake, was about to put in 40,000 additional porkers. The result upon the water supply, he maintained, would be disastrous to the health of about 200 families living nearby. The investment in the water plants was declared to be $750,000. The wells are from 100 to 1200 feet deep. The companies ask that the county make a scientific investigation of the problem. To this Chairman Pridham objected on the ground that it would be expensive, and that the companies had not satisfactorily proved that damage would accrue to them. He also doubted the number of hogs to be imported. The matter was taken under advisement.

OVER THE "HOGSBACK" ON THE TRAIL TO CAMP BALDY

Making the Thirteen Per Cent Grade in an Oakland Machine Through Groves of Alder and Live-Oaks—Big Camp is Now Open to the Fisher and Camper.

Charlie Coffman of Irwindale says that automobiles are of two kinds—the kind that climbs cheerfully over "Old Hogsback," in the San Antonio canyon, and the kind that does not. This may be a general classification, but it goes straight to the point on hill climbing, and automobiles that have not been made to accept the trail conditions of the Southern California mountains rule out a lot of the fun for the owner and his friends. Automobiles that take parties to Camp Baldy, over the thirteen per cent grade, twisting about the right angles of the path, bundling the quick rises with a rush of strength that carries over the bunches with surety—such automobiles are good ones to have, and there's no doubt of that. And nobody who knows Charlie Coffman would think of him as being prejudiced or boastful, but he believes that his Oakland machine, his Oakland forty, belongs in class A when it comes to negotiating the Hogsback, and he proved it the other day in a very pretty climb to Camp Baldy.

THE MORNING CLIMB ON THE CREST OF THE HOGSBACK.

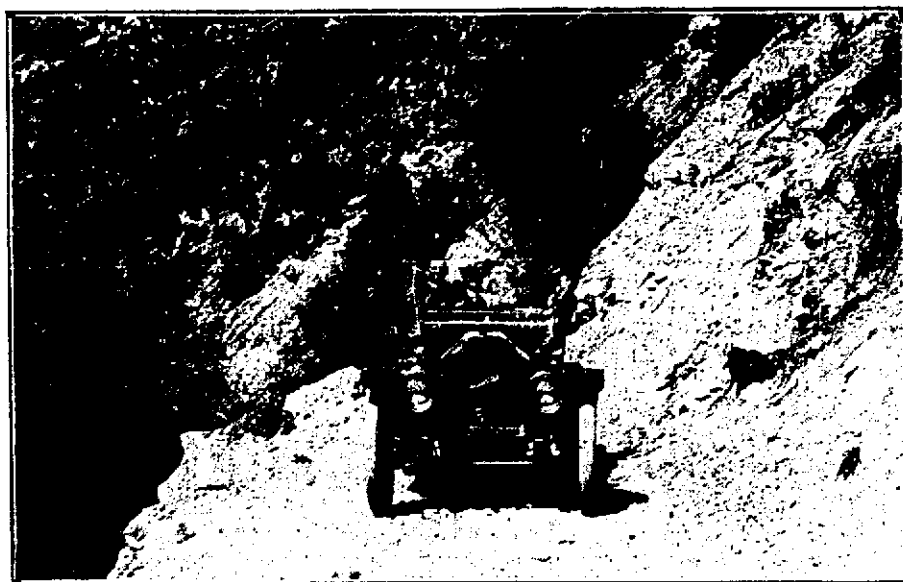

The manager of the camp resort often speaks of what he terms "a good automobile road all the way up." To some this may be exactly the truth, and the trail to Camp Baldy is designated as a good automobile trail, but there are little side issues to be considered. To the uninitiated, or the person who is just a wee bit squeamish about sharp turns, and a trifle "feery" of the trail that hugs along within a few inches of a thousand foot drop to the gorge below, the automobile trail that is "good all the way up" is something to qualify on before expressing an enthusiastic opinion. There are some who wouldn't go up the trail to Camp Baldy in a machine with a driver they were not dead sure of; one whom they knew felt that his own life was of some consequence, and who would rather bring his party back safely to the valley below rather than get two columns of sensational wreck story in the Los Angeles papers. Charlie Coffman is one of the carefullest drivers you can pick out in Southern California, and at the same time, he covers ground in ticklish places fully as fast as the young driver who sits on his collar button and doesn't see what's in the road until it has gone past. A man who can wind his machine around the trail to Camp Baldy and do fancy needlework at the same time doesn't live, which is one way of saying that the road to the San Antonio fastnesses needs attention and good solid nerve. Coffman says that it's a fairly good trail, and he never looked the slightest bit worried the day he took his party up there in his Oakland forty, coming down is more ticklish, but he didn't pay much attention to the scenery while going up or down, and the scenery is about the finest that one will ride through in all the mountains of the Sierra Madre.

THE TRAIL IS GOOD.

To say that it is a bit dangerous to run an automobile up the San Antonio canyon is no more than a fair warning to any who contemplate the ride, but it isn't as bad as it sounds. The man who has run his machine up there will say that the run is a good one, and he will be willing to make it any number of times, but the chances are he won't scoff at you if you say there are spots where it needs some attention to the steering wheel. As soon as the machine leaves the toll gate at the mouth of the canyon, you begin to climb and wind. The roadbed is good hard gravel, and is smooth, with the exception of places encountered on this recent trip, which had not been mended from the havoc of the winter storms. The big rains raised a good deal of trouble in the canyon, and the turbulent little San Antonio river overflowed the low spots in the road, washing out bad gullies, but the road force has been at work steadily since that time, and when Charlie Coffman took his party up in the Oakland a few days ago, the road was in quite fair shape. The road-overseer told us that he would guarantee as good driving over his trail as was the case last summer, only he would have to have a few more days in order to complete his work. Which means, undoubtedly, the trail is smooth from bottom to top by this time.

In starting for the San Antonio canyon from Covina, an automobile party will take the foothill boulevard direction, out of Glendora, and along this beautiful highway to Uplands. The boulevard has lately been laid in solid macadam, a part of the "Good Roads" appropriation, and some portions of it are still in process of construction. A few weeks now, and the entire boulevard will be finished. In fact, one may start from Los Angeles soon, and run the entire distance on solid macadam roads to the mouth of the canyon above Uplands. The great mountains of the Sierra Madre range are made of decomposed granite and shale, and when the trail was cut along the winding canyon sides, it was itself a natural hard roadbed. There is nothing so fascinating as the highway in the mountains, where one may look up at towering crags at one moment, and again down thousands of feet into the gorge, where the mountain torrent is roaring and quarreling with the stones and debris. The San Antonio river is not so cruel as the great San Gabriel. There is something wanton and destructive to be seen at every turn of the San Gabriel canyon, showing how ruthless is this river, how completely oblivious it is to the kindly things of life, how unaware it seems to be that it is itself a part of nature, and that nature is in reality of a kindly, constructive mind, rather than unbridled and fierce and filled with the lust for destruction. San Antonio exquisite care of years to fashion a beautiful plan that her own rampant waters may destroy in an hour. Along the banks of this swift-moving stream, the alder hugs faithfully, patches of it making a companionship into small groves that are gratefully cool as the big machine climbs the grade. The live-oak is ambitious, and climbs high up on the mountainside. The pines begin to show themselves as the trail goes higher. Pines keep very exclusively to the higher places, lordly and silent and retiring from the sameness of the plains. Monster trees of the pine and cypress cling to the precipitous slopes, always demonstrating the wonder of plant life, in that they grow straightly to the sun, no matter what the conformation of the earth may be. There is a lesson in ethics to be found in the giant pine. No matter how ugly and inconsistent and varying are the surroundings beneath its feet, he sees no mission but to reach up in absolute perpendicular, disdaining all things but the higher motive of the sunlit vault above.

POWER FROM THE RIVER.

Business has crept up into the wilderness. The Oakland forty turned a sharp curve, to run into the midst of a little settlement beneath live-oaks, where the San Antonio Water Company has stationed a big power house. Here the company is generating light for the homes in Upland, and possibly for a larger area in the valley below. This company sub-leases the big tract a few miles above, where Camp Baldy is situated, one of the most delightful camping places one may find in all the wilds of the Sierra Madre. It is but a run of five miles from the mouth of the canyon to the camp, where more live-oaks are found, great monarchs of their kind, and high pines, and the ever-present mountain alder. There is a big grove of alders which follows the stream. Beneath the trees the camp managers have fashioned tents with board floors, covers of quietude. The lady in charge of the camp told the Oakland party that the camp would be opened on May 15. The visitors found the big pavilion still closed and battened against the weather, but men were busy putting up the tents, and getting ready for the big trade of summer. Here and there a fisherman whipped the stream for rainbow trout, and the anglers are getting the limit this year as often as they are inclined to make the try. There are comfortable frame houses built also, for people who wish to keep their families in a little better style than is afforded in a mountain tent. About two hundred tents are scattered through the grove, and this resort has become famous for its cool inviting breezes in the summer, when the valley is suffocating beneath the midsummer sun.

COASTING DOWN GRADE.

It is an exhilarating swoop down the long grade from the camp to the bottom of the canyon again, taking about a half hour to reach the view of the valley again. It is a delightful thing to lean back on soft cushions and watch the panorama, but the driver is busy making the curves and he has an automobile that minds like a trained animal. It's an exciting thing to see him jam the Oakland into high speed, and rise over a sharp incline that is like traveling up the side of a house. Charlie says that it is all in the Oakland. He says that the machine is made in Pontiac, Michigan, where there aren't any mountains, but that the people who fashioned her certainly made her to climb. Charlie thinks there is a little blood of the mountain goat in the Oakland. Whatever the breed may be, the machine took the party down to the canyon's mouth in pretty style, and the machine shot out onto the long grade that leads straight to Uplands. It's a fine trip up San Antonio in an automobile.

The easiest thing in the world to get, and about the least expensive, is the Little Want Ad. Phone 3098.

Before Buying Gypsum,

it will pay you to see S. W. Funk. He will guarantee more pure sulphate of lime for the money than any other gypsum offered, no matter how cheap.

You don't need to be a chemist to tell the difference between grades of gypsum we offer and that offered by other firms. All you need to do is to use the eye and see that our No. 4 Special, that averages about 87 per cent and selling it during the summer for $5.15 per ton, is several shades whiter than anything represented to be 93 per cent; and our No. 4, which averages about 93 per cent, is so much whiter than anything else offered that there is no comparison. There is more pure sulphate of lime in our $5.15 grade than anything else that has been offered in this valley. We guarantee our grades to be as represented, and also that they shall be free from moisture, salt and magnesia. There is a substitute gypsum being offered to the people for 93% that contains 20 to 25% water. Our No. 4 Special, when wet, will be about the same in color as this, but when the water is taken out of it, that material there would really only be about 70%, instead of 93%. There is nothing in the fertilizer line that the farmers can be more easily deceived in than in buying gypsum.

It will pay you to buy of an established firm and know that you are getting what is represented to you, and to know that you are not putting salt and magnesia on your soil to kill its fertility. Your orchards are too valuable to put on any substitute gypsum offered.

Pure gypsum, free from injurious elements, is the thing needed in the orchard to produce a healthy tree and fine quality of fruit, and you can buy such gypsum from S. W. Funk, Charter Oak, Cal., phone 155, who represents the Consolidated Pacific Cement Plaster Co. We will deliver the gypsum to your place for 75 cents per ton extra in the vicinity of Covina from the Santa Fe, or we will furnish it on and S. P. point with little extra cost.

A Square Proposition

I DON'T CARE where you buy your boys' shoes, or what you pay—I have the best shoe ever made, with style and comfort for your boy. I'm willing to let you buy one pair at your own price. Just send a note with the boy, saying: "Broadwell, here is the price I paid for the last pair of shoes I bought for my boy. You can fit him with a pair of yours for this." I'll make the same proposition for you or any of your family. If, after trying one pair of our shoes, I can't convince you, I am willing to keep still.

How do you suppose city stores with their enormous expenses can afford to sell goods for nothing? What do you know about the value of the goods you buy? One man has made four million dollars in twelve years out of a Broadway store. His profits were three hundred and fifty thousand dollars last year. Besides, he draws a salary of five hundred dollars per week for which he does not perform a single service. How much of it do you and yours pay?

To any LODGE OR CHURCH that wishes to help us increase our business, we will make a proposition to save stamps for any article they wish.

New shipment Ladies' Skirts. You will find our values reasonable, and prices less than you can get them elsewhere. Alterations free.

Theatrical Notes

Majestic.
The Idora Comic Opera Company will open the summer season of musical comedy at Hamburger's Majestic theater next Monday evening, when "Mlle. Modiste" will be presented for the first time by any company outside of Fritz Scheff's original organization. In providing light summer amusement at popular prices, the Majestic management is determined to maintain the high standard established by the traveling organizations through the season which has just closed, and nothing will be cheap about the Idoras but the price of admission. While she has been heard in Los Angeles but few times, the splendid capabilities of Agnes Cain-Brown, prima donna, are well known, and in "Mlle. Modiste" she finds a role of glove-fitting proportions. James McThern, principal comedian of the company, was the hit of the town when he played at the Majestic in "The Gingerbread Man" several seasons ago. Alleen Plaven, soubrette, comes direct from New York where she was featured with a series of big productions. Arthur Deane, Carl Gantvoort, Edward Beck, Laura Millard and William Herman West are the other leading principals, who will be accompanied by a corps of drummer girls, dancing contingent, millinery maids, and other beauties, all of whom have been especially selected for their singing voices. The augmented orchestra will be under the direction of the veteran Paul Steindorf, while Frank Stammers, who staged "The Merry Widow" is responsible for the general effects. "Mlle. Modiste" should prove a brilliant introduction to a most delightful operatic season.

Burbank.

Never have audiences basked in such a glow of color as that which shone from the Burbank stage this week in the scene settings of Edgar Selwyn's new play, "The Arab," in which this young star and successful playwright made his first Thespian appearance in Los Angeles. So thoroughly excellent is this piece in every respect that the Burbank has been crowded all week, and the brilliant drama of the Orient will be continued for another week.

One of the most significant comments upon this production is that had the play itself been less meritorious, it would have been overshadowed by the beautiful stage garnitures and general atmosphere; as it was however, the pictures were merely splendid accessories to the tale itself. The gay kaleidoscope of the bazaars, the quaint architecture of the mission and the soft moonlight in the palms all help the audience to understand this romantic story of love and adventures in the Far East.

But aside from its charming plot and its beautiful dressing, "The Arab" will be remembered, probably most of all, for the introduction of a new actor, Edgar Selwyn himself, who created the title part and at the same time made his first appearance on the Los Angeles stage. It was well that the creator of Jamil Abdullah Azam consented to play the part himself, for it would have been difficult to find anyone who could so perfectly have realized the character. In voice, appearance, dialect, make-up and bearing he is "The Arab" to the life. Supporting the star is one of the longest casts of characters of the season. The Burbank company dons the garb, speech and manners of the Moslem, Armenian, and Bedouin as if it had been playing a long engagement in Damascus itself.

"The Arab" has already been listed as one of the biggest of Burbank successes, which New York will undoubtedly endorse in the fall.

Pantages.

The great Wilhelm is the star attraction at Pantages theater for the vaudeville week beginning with the matinee Monday. Wilhelm is an impersonator of famous composers, and is himself a master of the orchestra. With the aid of his Imperial Yacht Orchestra he gives striking pictures of Rossini the irrepressible, Liszt the tremulous and sincere, Strauss the waltz king, Metra the tipsy Frenchman, Von Suppe with his lifting airs, and many others, including the great and only John Philip Sousa. The orchestra is not the least important part of the work of this artist, for in addition to playing the music of the various masters, they enter thoroughly into the spirit of the impersonations and complete the pictures Wilhelm sketches. While there is much humor in this act, the portraits are essentially faithful, and not travesties. Wilhelm is an artist, not a burlesquer. Trick bicycle acts are not so common as they used to be, as it is more difficult to find things which are original in this sort of vaudeville work. Paul Gordon has done so, however, and promises a novel series of sensations on wheels. "The Irresistible Girl," Agnes Burr, will be heard in a variety of songs and stories, the irresistibility of this young woman lying as much in the manner as the matter of her entertainment. Halligan and Ward, the "Rah Rah Boys" will bring a rapid-fire patter about things in general and nothing in particular. Rubie Strickland, long-legged and homely, knows how to be gracefully awkward, and as Hiram Q. Skidder from Skiderville, he promises hilarity. The four Nelson Comiques are acrobats with grotesque makeup and gymnastic stunts of the whirlwind sort. There will be new Pantagescope pictures.

High School Items

The grounds have been deserted by the boys the past week during the noon hour, on account of boxing matches taking place in the basement. Many exponents of the gentle art of boxing congregate there, under the supervision of some members of the faculty, and the air immediately resounds with impacts from uppercuts, hooks, jabs and other varieties of affectionate tokens bestowed by pugilists on their opponents. The basement closely resembles Uncle Tom's Naud Junction pavilion in consequence, and the windows are almost shattered by applause and advice from spectators. The Seniors have chosen the most laughable and thoroughly entertaining farce in years, to be presented at the class day exercises during commencement week. The title is a very alluring and highly descriptive one, namely, "In Hades in 1930," and Shakespeare's characters and notables of ancient times make speeches that would cause the originals great agony if they were able to hear the same. It is rumored that there will be some highly edifying "howlouts" on various celebrities, both in school and out of it. We are anxiously awaiting the production.

The Reed oratorical contest, to be held during commencement week, is attracting a number of students. Among those who have announced their intention to compete for the generous prizes offered by Dr. Reed are Noah Bashore, Fred Chamberlen, Louise Carroll, and Mabel Chamberlen.

Fred Chamberlen, of the Senior class, represented C.U.H.S. in an oratorical contest held by the Debating and Oratorical Association of Southern California in Los Angeles High School auditorium last night. He spoke on the subject, "International Peace." The results of the contest have not yet been ascertained.

The members of the Senior class were entertained very delightfully by Margaret Seeley, at her home, Friday evening of last week. The decorations and refreshments were in the colors of the class, and proved very agreeable both to the eye and the palate.

The final debate for the championship of the school is scheduled to occur on June 7 or thereabouts, and will be between the Freshmen and Seniors. The question for discussion is, "Resolved, that the constitution should be amended to the effect that senators shall in future be elected by the direct vote of the people." The Seniors have the affirmative of the question, and will be represented by Esther Scofield and Florence Utter, while the Freshmen debaters will be Dorothy Bryan and Agnes Hammond. Both debating teams have won victories for their respective classes in previous inter-class debates, preliminary to the final.

The results of the W. C. T. U. temperance essay contest have been announced. The best papers of the four classes were adjudged to be those of Bernice Griffiths, of the Freshmen; William Utter, of the Sophomores; Marjorie Capron, of the Juniors, and Arthur Bixby of the Seniors. Each of the winners receives a prize of $1.00. The paper awarded the prize as the best of the four essays was written by Arthur Bixby, of the Seniors, who will receive a prize of $2.00, given for the paper judged to be the best from those submitted by the high school. It is probable that the winning essays will be read at the M. E. Church on tomorrow (Sunday) evening, and the prizes will be awarded at that time.

Great excitement! The glee club went on a strike, and refused to sing for the Junior play, unless given tickets. The Juniors told the glee club that they would not need them, and are planning to do all the singing necessary, themselves. "Ray for independence."

The Senior girls gave the boys of the class a splendid "feed" in the domestic science department Wednesday noon. The boys reciprocated with a "joy ride" in autos to Ganesha park Thursday evening, where a "magnificent" wiener roast awaited the class. Several of the faculty went along, and merriment reigned, with night made melodious (?) with "We won't go home till morning!" Bonita defeated our collection of "the finest" in baseball Wednesday afternoon, to the tune of 4 to 1. By a previous agreement, the class making the most runs for Covina was to be given the wiener roast awarded by Eason as a prize on May Day. The Seniors made the most runs, but—keep it dark—they were able to make only one run, while the other classes couldn't even put a run over on the Bonita aggregation.

Mathew Speer, of the Freshman class, had the misfortune to cut his hand quite severely last week, with the result that blood-poisoning set in, and will keep him from using his arm for some time.

OREGON IS BOOMING.

Covina Man Says That It Rivals California in Prices of Land and Prosperous Cities.

If the dweller in Southern California valleys has an idea that this state is the only one showing remarkable progress, a trip up through the Rogue River valley in Southern Oregon will be an eye-opener, according to statements made by P. W. Cheney of Covina. Mr. Cheney has recently returned from that country, where he has 200 acres of apple land, and although a loyal Californian of long residence in the Covina valley, he says that he was very agreeably surprised at the activity and growth of the country in and around the city of Medford, Oregon. This city has a population of 12,000, with fifteen miles of asphalt street, one of the most thriving little cities on the Pacific Coast.

The country is engaged in raising apples and pears, and in stock raising further back in the rolling country. Mr. Cheney says that some of the fine, apple-bearing land is priced as high as the best orange land in the Covina valley. The country is going ahead with a rush. While in the city of Medford, the Covina man saw a great pile of 25,000 barrels of asphalt, ready to be used in the paving of more streets. J. W. Armstrong, a former Covina nurseryman, is engaged in the nursery business in Medford, and has a large ranch there.

WILL SING "CALIFORNIA."

New Song Written by Ellen Beach Yaw Will be Feature of Benefit Entertainment.

Los Angeles Express, Wednesday, May 17:

Ellen Beach Yaw has returned to Los Angeles, after winning the hearts of many thousands. Now she will sing for the benefit of the Lark Ellen Home for News and Working Boys.

This home at present is too small to accommodate the boys who need its shelter, and it is hoped by the management that the citizens of Los Angeles will lend their assistance to make the concert a great success.

One of the features of this concert will be a song entitled "California," the words and music of which are written by Miss Yaw, and which may be adopted as a state song. This song has never before been sung, and in its rendition for the first time at this concert all the newsboys who have voices will assist Miss Yaw in singing. Following are the words of the song:

California! Glorious land!
What mystery doest thou hold?
Thy name through the universe
Is writ in shining gold.
The eyes of every nation
Are turned toward thee now.
For God has placed with gracious hand
A wreath upon thy brow.

CHORUS.

California! California!
Earth's own charmed land!
Thy name through all eternity
Is writ by God's own hand.

Wondrous land of sunshine,
That draws men unto thee,
And holds them with a magic bond
In perfect unity.
Here is found a haven,
Where sun and flowers combine
To drive away all worldly care
And teach a love divine.

Lift your voice in gratitude!
Ring out ye mission bells!
Proclaim with love and harmony
The joy our country tells!
Peace and sweet contentment
Forever shall abide
In the homes of California—
Our nation's greatest pride:
GO TO CUCAMONGA.

Locals Will Play Grape-Town Team Tomorrow at Cucamonga—No Game Last Week.

Tomorrow the locals will meet the Cucamonga team on the latter's grounds, to play off the game that was postponed from last week.

The enforced week's rest that the players of both teams have had will put them in good trim for a snaking contest tomorrow, and a great exhibition will, no doubt, be the result.

Since Cucamonga has been reinstated in the league, interest has picked up in that town, which fact will undoubtedly swell the crowd at the game.

A large delegation is expected to go from here in machines, and many rooters will add interest to the contest.

Covina will play the same lineup as appeared in uniform at the last game played here two weeks ago. Russell and Forney will compose the battery for the locals.

APPRECIATION

We are pleased to be able to announce that there are many ranchers in this locality who stand ready to indorse the work which we have performed the past year in fumigating citrus orchards. We know that we have done first class work. The ranchers are also satisfied.

Wouldn't it be a good plan to get better acquainted with us, in anticipation of the season to come? Fumigation is almost a science. We have made a scientific study of the essentials. Communicate with us.

3rd.—The construction of a cement curb along each line of the roadway of said Badillo Avenue from the west line of Barranca Street on the east to the east line of Hollenbeck Street on the west, (except where curb has been constructed to the official line and grade and accepted by said city), in accordance with the plan, profile, and cross-sections for such work on file in the office of the City Engineer of said city, and specifications for the construction of cement curbs in the City of Covina on file in the office of the City Clerk of said city, said plan and profile being drawing numbered P-200, said cross-sections being drawing numbered C-203, and said specifications being numbered 17, which said plan, profile, cross-sections and specifications are hereby referred to for a more particular description of said work.

Beginning at the intersection of the east line of Hollenbeck Street with the center line of Badillo Avenue; thence east and delineated on map recorded in Book 9, page 4 of Miscellaneous Records of Los Angeles County, California, thence northerly along the east line of Hollenbeck Street two hundred twenty-six (226) feet, thence easterly and parallel with the said center line of said Badillo Avenue to the west line of Barranca Street, thence southerly along the west line of said Barranca Street four hundred and fifty-two (452) feet, thence westerly and parallel with said center line of Badillo Avenue to the east line of Fourth Street, thence south on said east line of Fourth Street two (2) feet, thence westerly and parallel with the said center line of Badillo Avenue to the east line of Hollenbeck Street, thence northerly along the east line of Hollenbeck Street to place of beginning.

The said Board of Trustees finds, upon estimates of the City Engineer of said city, that the cost of said proposed work or improvement will be greater than fifty (50) cents per front foot along each line of said street so proposed to be improved, including the cost of intersection work assessable upon said frontage, and said Board of Trustees determines that serial bonds shall be issued to represent the cost of said work or improvement; said serial bonds shall extend over a period ending nine (9) years from and after the second day of January next succeeding the date of said bonds, and an even annual proportion of the principal sum thereof shall be payable by coupon on the second day of January and July, respectively, of each year at the rate of seven (7) per cent per annum on all sums unpaid until the whole of said principal and interest is paid. Such bonds shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of an Act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled, "An Act to Provide a System of Street Improvement Bonds to Represent Certain Assessments for the Cost of Street Work and Improvement within Municipalities, and also for the Payment of such Bonds," approved February 27, 1893, and all Acts supplementary thereto and amendatory thereof.

Reference is hereby made to said Ordinance of Intention for further particulars.

Dated May 20th, 1911.
H. M. BRUBAKER,
Superintendent of Streets of the City of Covina, California.

Can You Grasp It?

You look upon ice in summer as a sort of luxury to "keep" foods in condition and lower the degree of humidity. But do you also know that ice is a necessary for the prevention of much sickness, and possibly, death? The cooling effect of ice keeps down fevers and prevents many troubles due to the heat. We sell the best and purest ice in Covina and put it in your home.

The Oakland Forty

The Machine That Climbs Hills Where Others Do Not.

Making the thirteen per cent grade up the San Antonio canyon, where the rises are sudden, and the curves sometimes at right angles, is a test of the best machines in the country. Sometimes on high, sometimes on intermediate, the Oakland forty mounted the grade this week with perfect surety. The same machine has been up there before. It is simple for the Oakland.

How many machines will take the grade on high speed up Grand avenue, through Glendora, to the Silent park? Not many. The Oakland does it often for demonstration. Call up C. H. Coffman of Irwindale and he will demonstrate this fact, and other facts about the Oakland automobile. Made in Pontiac, Michigan.

Town and Country

Physician in New Machine.

Dr. G. D. Jennings, has purchased one of the first of the new "Torpedo Roadsters" of the 1912 model to reach the Pacific Coast. This car came in the first carload shipped to California.

New Ranch All Planted.

Fifteen acres of navel and Valencia have just been planted out by W. Q. Custer on the Rhodes tract on Vincent street, which completes the planting of his ranch of 27 acres, now all in oranges.

Good Things of Life.

In another land the streets are paved with gold, they say, but right here in Covina you may sleep in gold beds. Notice our $5.00 white and gold beds, $3.65. These beds have heavy posts, square or round ornaments, decorated with gilt, fresh from the factory; regular $5.00, special for one week, $3.65. Covina Furniture Co.

Big Bob-Cat Killed

R. G. Trew, a rancher in the southwest country, has added the skin of a big bob-cat to his list of trophies. The wild-cat and the man came together on Wednesday, about two miles and a half south of Lark Ellen street. The cat was one of the largest which has been killed in this region, weighing twenty-five pounds, and measuring three feet four inches from tip to tip. The cat is the California variety of the lynx.

For Good Salesmanship.

The "Area" club is the name of a new organization just formed in Covina, which is made up of students of the Sheldon method of learning good salesmanship. H. S. Tripp is president, and H. A. Smith, one of the members of the force in Clapp's drug store is secretary. The club will meet again on Monday night, and the object is to discuss the best methods of business building. There are twelve in the organization, and more members are expected.

Alfalfa Brings Good Prices.

According to advices received by L. L. Ratekin of the San Gabriel Valley Milling Company, the price of alfalfa is to raise as the summer advances, owing to a shortage in the grain-hay crop. Although the crop of grain-hay is about normal, which is about 75 per cent of the enormous crop of last year, the demand is very strong and growing stronger each year. Alfalfa is worth $9 and $10 per ton in the field around the Covina country, and is worth about $15 per ton when baled.

Store Makes Good.

Hillen & Isham, the two young Pomona merchants who have started a department store in the Platt building, opposite Hotel Vendome, have already demonstrated that the people feel the need of a small-article store in this vicinity. The little things of life, seems to be the way to express what the store contains, and the building is crowded with ten and fifteen cent articles that delight the existence of the modern housewife. The young proprietors are genial and up-to-now, and the store is making good.

In The Walnut Grove.

This afternoon the members of the Covina Valley Farmers' Club, with their friends and guests, will enjoy an informal picnic in the walnut wash. It is one of the delightful places of the valley to spend an afternoon. Besides a good musical program, one of the speakers will be a Los Angeles business man, a member of the Thorpe Engraving Company, who has made an extensive study of the question of treating criminals. The study of criminology has been a fascinating investigation by this business man, and he will have something interesting to say.

Built Like a House.

G. O. Shouse, the big grain and hay grower of the village of Walnut, has just had completed a cook-wagon, made by Clarence Allison and J. N. Wilson in Covina, that is fitted up like a bungalow inside. It hasn't quite all the comforts of home, but it is provided with everything that goes in a first-class kitchen, and the frame-work is built to stand all the jolts and jars of a rough country. It is the finest cook wagon that has ever been turned out in this vicinity. Mr. Shouse has a big acreage of hay and grain this year, as he struck just the right time for seeding his ranch.

Swallows Piece of Tin.

That there may always be something new in the medical profession is demonstrated in the peculiar case of the seven years old son of A. G. Gant of Covina, who is now under the care of physicians. The lad swallowed a piece of tin some time ago, such as is used to nail down paper roofing. The location of the piece of tin has been in doubt while the lad was under treatment, but an X-ray picture was taken of the child's stomach this week, and the tin was located.

How this piece of tin was swallowed without the lad being seriously injured at once is something that is puzzling the doctors. It is thought that it will not be necessary to operate on the lad, but a problem confronts the doctors as to the method of removing the little disc.

Three lines in the Little Wagon may be the means of selling your house and lot.

Give Your Hens Time To Earn More Money

Keep them free from lice. Let them devote their time to scratching for a livelihood instead of scratching at vermin. The presence of these pests not only prevents your fowls from working for you, but it explains more poultry diseases, more poor egg records and more loss to poultrymen than any other cause. Chicken lice cost the poultryman more money than all the other items of poultry expense combined. They kill thousands of chickens every year. The prevention of this slaughter means

COLD FACTS

B-r-r-r! It's cold inside our refrigerators. Say, do you remember the old ice-chests that used to be made square, with wooden shelves above the ice, and a spout that always started leaking in the middle of the night?
